Leadership Pods

Learn, share, grow with a small group of liked-minded women

5 x 2 hour Pod Meetings per annum
5.00 pm – 7.00 pm Starts November 2017

- Would you like a safe, non-judgemental and confidential space in which to explore work challenges and receive support from a professional coach and others who've faced similar challenges?
- Would a programme designed to increase self-awareness, build confidence and resilience help you in your daily life?
- Are you interested in releasing more of your leadership potential?

After the successful launch of the first prototype, Michelle Johansen Professional Certified Coach and founder of the Women's Development Forum, is offering a series of Leadership Pods bringing together women from different companies and different industries to work together to release more of their leadership potential.

Joining a Pod is a natural next step for those who have experienced the Women's Leadership Forum or one-to-one coaching, and for those WDF members who want more depth than is possible in the monthly large meetings.

Ideally Pods will form naturally as a result of the shared experience during Leadership Intensive weekends, which are designed to go deep fast and create bonds between the group members.

However, Pods can also be formed from groups not going through this experience.

Women's Leadership Forum Testimonials

"Although unsure initially of whether the WLF sessions would be relevant to me, I quickly changed my mind when I signed up and attended the first session. The variety of people from different career backgrounds was refreshing and the different experiences each brought to the group. Michelle pitched the sessions perfectly with just the right amount of taught information balanced with interactive discussions and de-briefs. The fact that the programme is applicable across so many facets of life, not just career-wise, is invaluable."

"I have gained so much from this. This course has made me challenge the way I look at myself and the way I work with others. I cannot recommend this course highly enough for women of 'any' profession."

"The course has helped me learn more about myself and how I interact with others - this has been invaluable and I can't wait to start putting it into practice!"

"I did not know what to expect when I signed up to the WLF course - how does one unlock and/ or hone ones leadership potential? Michelle has a natural talent and drive to turn corporate training as we know it on its head. I have come away with a new and exciting perspective and understanding about why I am who I am both in the work place and my social life. A life changer and question provoker of a course, which I would strongly recommend to all."

"I have learnt that it does not matter what profession you are in or what position you hold. If you have a desire to really believe in yourself and to believe that you can make that promotion or top position then attending the women's leadership course will help empower you to do just that."

"Michelle's sessions provide a relaxed and friendly environment with groups small enough to quickly build relationships with the ladies attending. Any emotional barriers are dissolved, divulging experiences and thoughts in a supportive and confidential forum. The experience has enabled me to understand how best to maximise my teams potential as well as improve my approach. More importantly it has cemented the fact that we all have similar insecurities that can be resolved and overcome. I hope to continue with the friendships I have formed over the year."

"I would advise to come along to the WLF course with no pre-conceptions, and be prepared to leave with a new and exciting perspective on your personality, and that of others, and why you are the way you are in the work place and in your personal life. Be prepared to end the course with answers to questions you did not know who to ask and even more questions which you look forward to exploring further in Yr2 of WLF."
